FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Damson Wood Nursery & Infant School earns top environmental award

Damson Wood Nursery & Infant School Academy is celebrating after achieving Level 4 in the Greener Solihull Schools Award - the highest level currently available. The accreditation highlights the school's growing commitment to sustainability, environmental learning, and practical climate action. The school is also pleased to be supported by its award sponsor, National Energy Hub.

The award recognises schools that go above and beyond to promote greener ways of working and learning. By reaching Level 4, Damson Wood Nursery and Infant School has demonstrated that environmental education is firmly embedded across school life, from classroom learning to outdoor experiences.

Joanna Wright, Acting Deputy Head and Forest School Lead said: 'We're thrilled to receive this recognition. Our pupils show real curiosity and enthusiasm for caring for the planet and our staff have worked creatively to make sure sustainability is a natural part of our day-to-day routines.'
